

Psalm_009_233

HRN

09 June 2012

2nd Fret

Travis Pick

A messianic psalm of David--He praises the Lord for rebuking the nations--The Lord will judge the world in righteousness--He will dwell in Zion--The wicked will be sent to hell.

To the chief Musician upon Muth-labben, A Psalm of David.

- |   |  |
|---|--|
| 1.       C       D       GI will praise thee, O Lord,      C       D       GWith my whole heart;      C       D       GI will shew forth      C       D       GAll thy marvellous works.DE   A   D   E    A2.       I will be glad and rejoice in thee:      D       E       AI will sing praise to thy name,      DE        AO thou most High.      C        D       G3.       When mine enemies      C       D       GAre turned back,      C        D       GThey shall fall and perish      C       D       GAt thy presence.      D   E        A4.       For thou hast maintained      D   E        AMy right and my cause;      D   E    AThou satest in      D   E        AThe throne judging right.      C        D        G5.       Thou hast rebuked the heathen,      C        D        GThou hast destroyed the wicked,      C        D        GThou hast put out      C        D        GTheir name for ever and ever. | 6.       DE    AO thou enemy,      D       E        ADestructions are come to a perpetual end:      D       E        AAnd thou hast destroyed cities;      D        E        ATheir memorial is perished with them.      C   D   G7.       But the Lord      C       D       GShall endure for ever:      C        D       GHe hath prepared his throne      C   D   GFor judgment.      D       E        A8.       And he shall judge the world      DE    AIn righteousness,      D   E        AHe shall minister judgment      D   E        ATo the people in uprightness.      C        D        G9.       The Lord also will be      C        D        GA refuge for the oppressed,      C   D   GA refuge      C        D        GIn times of trouble. |
|---|--|

10. D E A
And they that know thy name
D E A
Will put their trust in thee:
D E A
For thou, Lord, hast not forsaken
D E A
Them that seek thee.
C D G
11. Sing praises to the Lord,
C D G
Which dwelleth in Zion:
C D G
Declare among the people
C D G
His doings.
12. D E A
When he maketh inquisition for blood,
D E A
He remembereth them:
D E A
He forgetteth not
D E A
The cry of the humble.
C D G
13. Have mercy upon me, O Lord;
C D G
Consider my trouble which I suffer
C D G
Of them that hate me,
C D G
Thou that liftest me up from the gates of death:
D E A
14. That I may shew forth
D E A
All thy praise in the gates
D E A
Of the daughter of Zion:
D E A
I will rejoice in thy salvation.
C D G
15. The heathen are sunk down
C D G
In the pit that they made:
C D G
In the net which they hid
C D G
Is their own foot taken.
16. D E A
The Lord is known by
D E A
The judgment which he executeth:
D E A
The wicked is snared in the work
D E A
Of his own hands.
C D G
17. The wicked
C D G
Shall be turned into hell,
C D G
And all the nations
C D G
That forget God.
D E A
18. For the needy
D E A
Shall not always be forgotten:
D E A
The expectation of the poor
D E A
Shall not perish for ever.
C D G
19. Arise, O Lord;
C D G
Let not man prevail:
C D G
Let the heathen be judged
C D G
In thy sight.
D E A
20. Put them in fear, O Lord:
D E A
That the nations may know
D E A
Themselves to be but men. :l2x
D E A
Selah.